DRAGON EXPRESS © 2020-2020 Nintendo and Intelligent Systems ©Innocentsoft Corporation Dragon Express Is Still In Full Development! Dragon Express is still in the process of development but we are thinking of releasing it this year. To date we have released only the opening film. What we are trying to accomplish with the game is to create a thrilling adventure where players can play characters that are strong and cute. The cute characters are often treated with caution since they are usually seen as weak in RPGs, but it is possible to show off their strength. With that in mind, the “cuteness” of the characters has been increased through strong development. In addition to the main story mode, a competitive game mode is in the works. “A race game which involves the determination of the first to finish”. The story mode contains six complete stories. The game will feature multiple endings and you will be able to experience character growth throughout the story. We are also trying to implement events that will allow you to connect with the characters in the game. Thank you for your support. SAO and Dragon Express Character Art Images! Event System for Dragon Express With the success of the game Black Desert Online we have implemented a new system where you can buy items and characters in real time. Within the game, you can purchase “buys” which you can use to make item purchases during the game. In addition, you can also use “bank buys” that allow you to buy random items from various sellers. With the new system, the items you buy can be used in the game to avoid the running out of items. The item you purchase can also help you enter special events and gain access to special routes and information. In
