Well, the people over at Power-Q have just the solution. Power-Q is designed to make charging your phone without having a wall charger extremely easy and convenient. The company even includes a special kind of case that lets you change the voltage on the back of your iPhone or iPod to charge it for a long time. Power-Q also created a special kind of case that covers the phone entirely when it is charging, but is still easily accessible for calls. The Power-Q case can be charged without having to remove any of the phone's parts that are usually needed to charge it. It's not a matter of just charging the case to charge the phone, but a matter of completely covering it. It's not just a charging case, but it's a form of protective clothing that gives you the best of both worlds.
