

Fifa 22

In an interview with a few footballers, they can explain to you what is the technology behind it. We've put some of the best chat around the new feature. This is it - FIFA 22 is here. The global launch edition in HD and 4K. And on your TV and PlayStation 4 - and on the PS4 Pro. The new Master League will let you play any club from anywhere and is a real test of skill, decision making, and tactics. It begins on 9th July with the launch of the title. This is the third instalment in the EA Sports FIFA series. You can read our previous reviews HERE and HERE. Here are some of the players around who are both helping with the development of the game and provide insight. Their name and spellings may be changed, but their opinions remain the same. Luka Modric - (Real Madrid) Luka Modric (image credit: EA Sports) "I was surprised by the intensity of the training sessions. It is different to anything else I've done. I found it difficult to train during the week because I was busy playing after my team-mates. It's a bit like working with the national team. It's not just about football; it's about team-work, routines and preparation. The clubs are very professional, with a detailed plan for all the players. This is the most accurate simulation of the real thing. The movement on and off the pitch is so accurate. In training we measure acceleration, speed, with a GPS, for example. The players are interested in all of it, especially when they get to play with FIFA. We talk about the rivalries at these games, and the players have been talking about the new Master League. It is very exciting. FIFA 22 is more realistic than FIFA 21. It's like being in a club. We'll see how it turns out. I will tell you now. Yes, it's better. EA can't allow itself any mistakes. In the next season we'll be even more realistic." Miralem Pjanic - (Juventus) Juventus midfielder Miralem Pjanic (image credit: EA Sports)

"FIFA looks spectacular. The graphics are better than FIFA 19. More detail and more attention to detail. It is much more like life. We play in a very
