Sunday, August 19, 2009 [map: amazing artwork!] I do so love graphic designer Mark Buehrle. He has an ongoing series of incredible lithographs, and now he's moved on to maps. "Map Puzzle" - the kind of map you struggle with for hours, finding your way through, but only accomplishing a (very tiny) part of the task. Something about these maps makes me want to break down and move continents, or knock them off their own axis, or just stick someone's hand in the sea somewhere else and see what comes out. But I also feel an inner peace in these images, like it's all so right. From here we go to New York to meet some friends and have a party. We're returning to Montreal just in time to watch the last day of the Parours de la Jeunesse. (It ends up being the ugly Montréal version of the Olympic Games.) And, back in Montreal, to celebrate the end of our summer, the end of my contract, and the start of fall semester. The amazing girl I work with has already bought her ticket for a flight out of here. So we'll be heading back to Austin to start our working lives again. I'm thinking of an apartment, planning for the upcoming year, and I'm so excited to be starting graduate school this fall. Right before going back to school, though, I'll be continuing with my studies here, and I'm so glad my employer is allowing me to do so. Even though the year has been a fantastic one, even better than I'd hoped, I'm so looking forward to being home with my family in the fall, and I'm looking forward

RAfgEBLCM9M3C9F2A9A2DAMAKOAIHO.The 5 Biggest Changes In IDS Insurance Coverage In response to ACA, many personal insurance policies have been altered and new ones have been created. Like any other legislation passed, this has caused some policy holders to feel frustrated. While many of the changes have been good for the consumer, this blog will highlight what has happened to each individual aspect of insurance. Health Maintenance Organizations Not only have HMO's been created, but many of the existing HMO's have altered their business models. Focusing on the consumer, what changes have been made? The prices for services provided by the physicians and hospitals. Some HMO's have chosen to cap the amount of services that doctors and hospitals can provide per month. Fees for drugs and other items have also increased. Behavioral Health. There has been an increase in coverage for those with mental health needs, including psychotherapy and substance abuse treatment. Other types of coverage have decreased, such as HIV testings. No one is saying that this is fair. However, it does represent the new reality that we live in. Do you understand how your insurance is changing?#!/usr/bin/env python # Copyright (c) Facebook, Inc. and its affiliates. # All rights reserved. # # This source code is licensed under the BSD-style license found in the # LICENSE file in the root directory of this source tree. from setuptools import setup setup(name='enaml2flib', packages=['enaml2flib', 'enaml2flib.flib2graphviz'], version='0.4.1', description='FlameGraph flib2enaml converter', long_description=open('README.rst').read(), license='Apache License, Version 2.0', author='Andre Giroux', author_email='andre.giroux@fb.com', maintainer='Andre Giroux', maintainer_email='andre.giroux@fb.com', url='')
