Rain GamesTue, 09 Jul 2014 05:43:42 +0000>WASHINGTON (AP) — Not long after President Donald Trump became the Republican nominee for president, retired Army Maj. Gen. Michael Flynn, who had been serving as Trump's transition team director, reached out to a Russian military officer about setting up a channel of communications that would bypass U.S. intelligence agencies, an adviser to the transition team told The Associated Press. According to senior transition officials, Flynn and the officer spoke by telephone in late December, a few days after Russia's ambassador to the United States was asked to leave the country. The identified Russian was described by the transition officials as having ties to the Kremlin, including a childhood friend of President Vladimir Putin. ADVERTISEMENT The request to seek a direct communication line came days before Trump's Jan. 20 inauguration. Trump was largely dismissive of the request during an interview earlier this year. He said he was told directly of the request by senior members of the intelligence community and that he had no knowledge of it. "No, I didn't even know that was happening. But I'll tell you, it is interesting. And, from what I understand, it is against the rules, but I think that part of the problem with our country is we don't know what we don't know. And people are definitely aware of it," he said. The identity of the Russian is not yet known. Trump's team did not respond to a request for comment. The details of the Russian outreach were revealed in wide-ranging interviews of more than a dozen current and former administration officials, transition staffers and family members of the president's immediate staff. The officials spoke on condition of anonymity due to the sensitivity of the matter and in some cases were not authorized to speak publicly on it. Flynn resigned as national security adviser in the early days of the administration and has not been charged with

Level-3 By Dainymanon November 25, 2014 I played this game a little bit at my spare time. I've already played Undertale, so this game is a refresh for me. So far, this game and Undertale share some common good in terms of the story and atmosphere. So I know that this is a "kids" game. But I still think that this game is amazing. Pros: + The characters are adorable! + The music is so good! + I like the music because I like the background of the game. The background doesn't disrupt me, but it gives me a warm feeling. + I like the gameplay! You can choose to play as a warrior, the druid, or the mage, and you choose your preferred class, and then you can put your best class in your stats. The game is very fun. Cons: - The control is a little bad. Since I have a smartphone and I mainly play it with my friends. They usually don't have the same age as me. So, I play this game in two ways: touch a touch panel. You can touch the screen to move the character. Or you can tap an arrow, moving to the right/left. If you want to play with a controller, then you have to use two controls (left and right) for a touch screen. I think that this game would be better if this game can be played with a touch panel and a controller at the same time. - The enemy appearances are really unique. I think that if the enemy looks similar to the background of the game, then it will have a good impact on the players. - In multiplayer, the ranking will be based on your combo and the number of the total kills. The higher your combo is, the higher your ranking will be. Overall: This is my first choice for indie games. I love the atmosphere. If you want to relax and you want to just play this game for 10 minutes, this is the one. SUMMARY.
