Time Info (Latest)

Time Info is a simple and straightforward utility designed to tell you the current time, as it is set on your system. The program can come in handy for those on a tight schedule that may forget to check the time because they are caught up with their activities. Add your reminder and the app says it out loud for you. The program comes with a simple and user-friendly interface that is unlikely to give you any troubles. The main window consists of a large clock area that displays the current time as it is set on your system. From the right panel, you can set up your notifications or reminders to run hourly, every 30 or 15 minutes. Afterward, you can choose the voice option based on your operating system and the packages installed. At the same time, you can set the date, in case you do not need a reminder for the current date. In the free version, you cannot really tweak the reminders to set a specific title or a message. However, those who make donations can set their reminders more efficiently, as they can get notifications regarding the task they planned along with the details. You can add more voices, but it requires some configuration. Depending on the Windows version on your PC, you already have several pre-installed languages packages and voices. For instance, Windows 8 comes with three voices, namely David, Zira and Hazel. Even though the latter is no longer available with Windows 10, you can add it along with the other voices from previous Windows versions by accessing the Region and Language in your settings and adding a preferred language. In the eventuality that you are usually caught up with your work or other activities you do on the PC and simply lose track of time, then you can consider using Time Info so that you may stick to your schedule. Time Info Description Time Info is a simple and straightforward utility designed to tell you the current time, as it is set on your system.
