Most of the time, their boyfriends or spouses just want to make sure these chicks are being careful of their health. who has been using them, will continue to use them. So, they want to know if you are safe and free from sores etc. Just treat their lower lips with olive oil and leave it overnight. After the night, wipe it off with cotton buds and apply honey. It will seal the moisture on your lips and it will keep your lips looking fresh throughout the day. Just rub a drop or two of honey onto the lips and leave it for around 30 minutes and you will realize how moist your lips get and how soft they look. No matter what you put on your lips, you can not go wrong with honey. You can also put organic sugar on your lips and rub it with your fingertips. If you prefer a sugar-free option, then you can use coconut oil and rub it on your lips. Make sure you use only organic honey as using it from street markets is never recommended. You should use a high quality honey when using it on your lips. Any cheap honey or honey from a street market will not be effective when you use it for your lips. If you want to go the sugar-free route, then you can also use the coconut oil. On the days you can not have anything on your lips, you can massage the oil into your lips and then rub it using your finger nails. Also, if you have a problem with dry lips, then you can use a lip balm. You can also use a lip mask, but a homemade lip mask is a better option. A lip mask is created using petroleum jelly. You can also try DIY recipes with honey or honey and vanilla or peppermint essential oils. To create a lip mask, you need honey, peppermint oil and a bit of coconut oil or olive oil. Also, you need to purchase the lip mask in a well-known store. You can also create a lip balm by mixing olive oil, honey, mint oil, coconut oil and a bit of cocoa butter. However, it is recommended that you keep a lip mask applied for around 15-20 minutes. If you have a lip mask on for too long, then
